STRATEGIC DEVELOPMENT

Opening of a subsidiary in the United Kingdom

tekka (FR0010999425, ALTKA), which designs, manufactures and sells innovative medical devices for use in Cranio-Maxillo-Facial Surgery, Orthodontics and Dental Implants, today announces the opening of its UK subsidiary.

The creation of this subsidiary is in line with tekka's international expansion policy as laid out at the time of its IPO.

Management of the Bristol-based subsidiary has been entrusted to Kevin REECE, who has acquired substantial experience in Maxillo-Facial Surgery whilst working for a world leader on the osteosynthesis market.

The United Kingdom offers very substantial development potential on both the Cranio-Maxillo-Facial Surgery market, which is estimated at 18 million euros and is twice as big as the French market⁽¹⁾, and the Dental Implants sector, which is forecast to grow by 18% a year over the coming 5 years, the largest growth in Europe⁽¹⁾.

Thierry ROTA, Founder and CEO of tekka, comments: "I am delighted with the creation of this strategic subsidiary just a month after our IPO. The United Kingdom has very substantial development potential and provides us with some excellent growth opportunities. The expertise we have acquired in Cranio-Maxillo-Facial Surgery and the complementary nature of our Dental Implants offer will be major assets for our development on this market. We will be able to rely on teams who have substantial experience and who share our values and our corporate philosophy."
